How to use this document

This document lists every piece of text currently live on the Draco website, organised page by page. Each section is a table with three columns: where the text appears, the current copy, and a blank column for your changes.

To request an edit, write your revised wording in the “Your changes” column next to the relevant line (or add a comment). Anything left blank will be treated as approved as-is. The Verticals & Geographies table is empty for you to complete — please add the client verticals and regions you'd like represented (no client names required; a descriptive vertical and region for each is enough).
